Excerpt from Art of the American Indian: Including Basketry and Blankets Collected Over a Period of Fifty Years; American Furniture, Staffordshire, Rugs, Coverlets, Glass and Other Decorations; Property of Mr. And Mrs. Charles Townsend Baisley, New York The blankets are mainly Of Navaho weave, both Old and modern, and among them are many of the finest and handsomest examples which their looms produced. Included are small saddle blankets of a type now rare indeed and Of the most excellent workmanship in native wools. There are several very large ones also, and it is interesting to note that one Of these is Of the same fine tight weave usually used in much smaller pieces. The Chimayo and Saltillo blankets include many beautiful one and two-piece textiles made in typical style; warm colors, soft, and Of intricate patterns.
