WATER WOES: CONSERVING AND MANAGING OUR FUTURE LIFELINE

Daya Publishing House, 2006. Hardcover. Book Condition: New. A recent millennium ecosystem assessment conducted by experts from 95 countries concluded that a substantial fraction of the ecosystem services that support life on Earth, including freshwater, are being degraded or used unsustainably. This book examines the underlying causes and suggests ways and means to reverse this alarming trend. The objective is not only to raise public awareness of water-related matters but also to suggest innovative new concepts in freshwater conservation and...
