Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from Annual Paper Concerning the Lord s Work: In Connection With the Pastors College, Newington, London, 1887-88 During another year we have diligently laboured on in the Pastors College, and have found pleasure in the labour. The Lord has been mindful of us, and has accepted and prospered our work. It is more easy to think out and deliver twenty lectures, than to write one Report. The fact is, there is nothing to write about so long as all goes smoothly, tutors are in health, students are in sound working order, funds come in regularly, and openings are found for men when their term is over. This has been our happy portion throughout the year. Everything has gone well with us, and we can only say, Bless the Lord ; and with hearty thanks assure our generous donors that we were never more attached to our College enterprise, and never more hopeful as to its results. Yet we may, and even feel that we must, say that our staff of workers is a singularly able one. The Vice-president looks after the whole institution with a sleepless eye, and in a thousand ways, mentionable and unmentionable, keeps the little band in good marching order. He has to administer fatherly discipline and brotherly advice; and he does both with wonderful wisdom and patience. Mr. Gracey is graceful, accomplished, affectionate, commanding. All the men love and admire him, and they are right in so doing, for he lays himself out for their benefit, and he has something worth laying out. Our old friend, Mr. Fergusson, is all on fire with the desire to push on his young friends, and...
