Food Agriculture Organization of the United Nations (Fao), Italy, 2000. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book. In collaboration with the United Nations Environment Programme (UNEP), the Food and Agriculture Organization (FAO) has developed an improved planning framework for land resources development and management that addresses the problems recognised during the United Nations Conference on Environment and Development in Rio de Janeiro, Brazil in 1992. The approach is centred on the concept of stakeholders and their objectives and the role of government in creating the conditions within which rural people can use their land resources productively and sustainably. Several examples from different projects worldwide illustrate the importance of creating an enabling environment that makes it possible to manage land sustainably for the benefit of present and future generations.
