God had turned the little fellow s darkness into light; He had been and comforted him before any one else. Out of evil came good. Daniel! why did you keep praying before your open window? You knew your enemies were whispering outside, and intended to seize you for it? Why not go into some inner chamber and shut the door? It is too late now; it is all over with you; the lions appetites are sharp. O, it was an evil and bitter hour when they opened the den of the roaring brutes and let you in! So we might have thought. But God took care of him. The lions fawned upon him like lap-dogs, and he could weave the hair of their manes in his fingers. In the morning, when the ting brought him out, and declared that Daniel s God should he his God, then how the good shone in the midst of the evil. A bar of iron worth 1, worked into horse-shoes, is said to be worth 2; made into needles, it is worth 70; made into pen-knife blades, it is worth 650; made into balance-springs of watches, it is worth 50,000. What a drilling the poor bar must undergo to reach all that; but hammered, and beaten, and pounded, and polished, how was...
