Sinful Habits do require a distinct Manner of Repentance, and have no Promise to be pardoned but by the Introduction of the contrary. 32. This is the most material and practical difficulty of the question; for upon this depends the most mysterious article of repentance, and the interest of dying penitents. For if a habit is not to be pardoned without the extirpation of that which is vicious, and the superinducing its contrary; this being a work of time, requires a particular grace of God, and much industry, caution, watchfulness, frequent prayers, many advices and consultations, constancy, severe application; and is of so great difficulty and such slow progression, that all men who have had experience of this employment, and have heartily gone about to cure a vicious habit, know it is not a thing to be done upon our deathbed. That therefore which I intend to prove, I express in this proposition. A vicious habit is not to be pardoned without the introduction of the contrary, either in kind, or in perfect affection, and in all those instances in which the man hath opportunities to work. 33. The church of Rome, whose chairs and pulpits are dangerous guides in the article of repentance, affirms that any sin, or any habit of sin, may be pardoned by any single act of contrition; the continued sin of forty years may be w-ashed off in less than forty minutes, nay, by an act of attrition with...
