THE UNIVERSALIST QUARTERLY: JANUARY, 1865 (CLASSIC REPRINT) (PAPERBACK)

Forgotten Books, United States, 2017. Paperback. Condition: New. Language: English . Brand New Book ***** Print on Demand *****. Excerpt from The Universalist Quarterly: January, 1865 Three years ago, after the rebellion was successfully set in motion, thoughtful men dreaded the event of a new election. They were fearful that by great exertions on the part of the traitorous faction South, by the active sympathy which was accorded to the rebellion in Europe, by the indirect aid and comfort which it was receiving from its former political allies North, the war might last during the whole Of Mr. Lincoln s first term of Office. This would bring upon us the excitement of a presidential election in the midst of a civil war. Would not this put our government to the test beyond all precedent Might it not imperil everything? With such anticipations, the event has been awaited by the friends and foes of our gov ernment, both at home and abroad. The eyes of all Europe have been upon us. The event came. It came With much excitement. But the excitement was too deep and earnest to be marked by the characteristics Of other and former presi dential campaigns. It called out an array Of talent, never be fore equalled in the history of any presidential contest. Some Of the speeches Of the recent campaign will live forever, and will be read in future as we read the orations of Demosthenes and Cicero. TO the joy of our friends and the chagrin Of our foes abroad, the election passed Off as quietly as any ever known in the history Of our country. Surely, we have reason to thank God, that the ship of State has survived the shock, and that the portion Of the crew which mutinied against our captain...
