Createspace Independent Publishing Platform, 2017. Paperback. Condition: New. Large Print. Language: English . Brand New Book  Print on Demand .This series of books starts with a bio of, The Father of Modern Humanism, John Hassler Dietrich, a few of his writings. The other Volumes are his writings. He wrote 2000 speeches but the church only published a few. We found about 450. All of them in unreadable formats. I have been a year working on the first 150 and now the last 200. I am the first in over 80 years to read these and I know why thousands came to hear Dietrich. I came to similar values and beliefs before I discovered Dietrich. His thoughts are real and alive as when he wrote them. My friend Ben has read them and said, No matter where I put my finger it opens to a gem. Dietrich and I both wrote speeches rather than books so they read like speeches rather than books and without the proper punctuation for books. I am no English major but I wanted to publish for preservation. Dr. David Schafer, retired Yale professor, scientist, co-founder and past president of the Humanist Assoc. of Ct, said, For several years, among the talks most consistently popular with our members have been those in Doug Peary s long-running series, Humanist Heroes. We ve talked to a number of people about the reason for this. One reason seems to be the emotional intensity Doug brings to his research on each of his subjects, an intensity that continues to reward him, and us, deeply with each of his subjects with each new biography he touches. These are not just interesting stories from and about the lives of Humanists; they are intimate glimpses of more meaningful insights into living, working, loving,...
